

How Harvard self-identifies by race, 2020

Harvard remains a majority white town, with 84.9% of residents identifying racially as white. But in recent years, the number who identify as Asian (6.7%) or multiracial (5.8%) has increased.

Source: 2020 Census State Redistricting Data (Public Law 94-171) Summary File, Aug. 20, 2021